DEDICATION

Haywood Moxley

Mr. Moxley is my hero. Not like a super man or a man who has captured the public eye, but someone who has an impact on everyone he touches. Mr. Moxley's open mind and drive to educate enable him to convey his lessons to students. Just look at his classroom--famous American authors adorn part of the wall, while the back wall is covered with student bag-masks. Then look around to the rest of the room--a basketball net, a fish tank, and pictures of his family. One leaves his classroom without even speaking to him, but knowing who he is. Mr. Moxley makes teaching personal.

The 1996-1997 Bell is dedicated to Mr. Moxley. His dedication goes beyond the classroom. He pushes his students to get involved in projects like creative writing. For many years he has advised the yearbook, but he moved on to other projects this year--but not really. Even though it isn't his job, Mr. Moxley has been crucial to this book, giving us advice and even a helping hand when we needed it. In years past as our advisor, he was always there for us, understanding when we didn't meet a deadline or even filling in for us when we couldn't finish it ourselves. On a more personal note, as I considered the dedication of the book, I thought about who influenced me the most during high school. So many of my teachers have shaped the way I perceive the world and helped me form my goals for the future, that choosing one person was nearly impossible. Mr. Moxley, however, had a unique influence. He has helped me develop a love for literature and an understanding of both fiction and non-fiction composition. Most importantly, Mr. Moxley has showed me what teaching is. I never thought that I could teach: it always seems too difficult and abstract. Because of Mr. Moxley's teaching style and my work with him in the Boys' and Girls' Club Program, I realize that I can be a teacher. It's something I can do and enjoy. Mr. Moxley showed me that the learning process can be educational and interesting. For reasons both personal and educational, we dedicate this volume of The Bell to Mr. Haywood Moxley.

THE WILSON LIBRARY

Some flowers bloom today
Some flowers will never
grow
And roses sprout in May
While some flowers bloom
today.
And little boys some day
Will gaze at the fields and know
Some flowers bloom today
Some flowers will never
grow.

ENTERS THE 21ST CENTURY

The 1996-1997 school year witnessed the inauguration of the remodeled and enlarged Patrick Wilson Library on the MBA campus. Made possible by a 2.3 million dollar gift (the largest single gift in school history) from Trustee David K. Wilson W'37 and his family, the renovations to the library represented far more than a simple facelift. Immediately following the conclusion of the 1995-1996 school year, professional movers moved all of the books and furnishings out of the library and construction began. Over the next seven months, the building was almost completely gutted as workers constructed a new central stairway, built a two-story addition, and opened up the reading room with the installation of clerestory windows on a new fourth level of the building.

The redesigned facility incorporates state-of-the-art technology and a stunning new architectural design that clearly makes it the center of learning and technology on the campus. Included in the renovations were an additional four thousand square feet of floor space, two student study rooms, a new seminar room, a refurbished language laboratory, two computer classrooms with wiring for fifty computers, a technology office, and aesthetic additions to make the facility more inviting and "user-friendly." Reopened in January 1997, the new and improved Patrick Wilson Library promises to meet the needs of the MBA community into the 21st century and beyond.

"What gap are you talking about?"/
"there's a gap in us; like the soft spot on the head of a child which closes with age, this gap opens as one develops one's will."/ "Where's the gap?"/ "At the place of your luminous fibers," he said, pointing to his abdominal area./ "What is it like?
What is it for?"/ "It's an opening. It allows a space for the will to shoot out, like an arrow."/ "Is the will an object?
Or like an object?"/ "No. I said that to make you understand. What a sprcoror calls will is a power within ourselves. it is not a thought, or an object, or a wish.
To stop asking questions is not will because it needs thikin' and wishing.
Will is what can make you succeed when your thoughts tell you that you're defeated. Will is what makes you invulnerable. Will is what sends a

Let these notes be remembered:
My green scarf is my purple hair;
I want to be a writer, a poet;
I try to be an artist;
I am passionate about one thing only;
"O, she doth teach the torches to burn bright!"
You may find me "underneath the grove of sycamore."

...Oh, I also love Mom and Dad.

Headmaster Brad Gioia

Mr. Bradford Gioia is in his third year at Montgomery Bell Academy. In addition to his duties as headmaster, Mr. Gioia teaches one section of AP English. By expecting all MBA students to meet the high standards he sets for himself, Mr. Gioia urges students to achieve the goal of gentleman, scholar, athlete, and artist. Mr. Gioia has a B.A. from the University of the South, an M.A. from Middlebury College, and an M.Ed. in Administration from West Georgia College.

Director of the Junior School Martha Thurmond

Mrs. Martha Thurmond is in her fifth year of directing the Junior School at MBA. Along with these demanding duties, she teaches seventh-grade science. Mrs. Thurmond continues to be the driving force behind the development of the Junior School curriculum, her enormous popularity earned by her care for the students and the discipline she demands. Mrs. Thurmond received her B.S., M.Ed., and Ed.S. from the University of Georgia.

Director of the High School

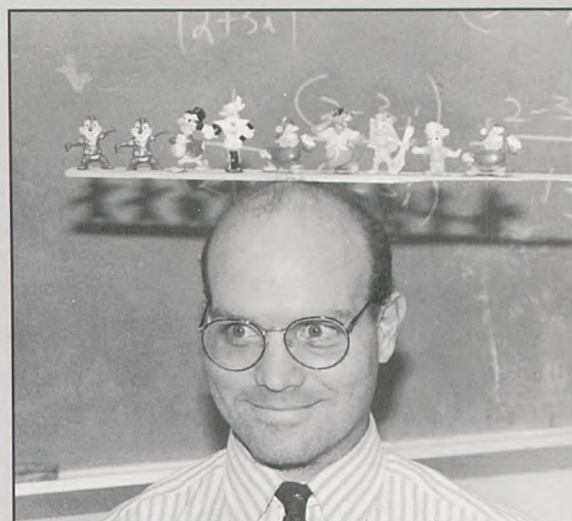

Damon Regen

Mr. Regen continues to serve MBA as the Director of the High School. His job demands a diversity of skills, be it structuring activity programs to maintaining discipline. Mr. Regen, though absent for knee surgery part of the year, came back second semester after a quick recovery. As a sponsor of the Big Red Club and as a die-hard alumnus, Mr. Regen keeps our spirits high and continues to inspire students to strive for excellence. He received his B.A. from Vanderbilt University and teaches Math V and Geometry.

Academic Dean Edward Gaffney

Dr. Gaffney brings to bear on the Office of Academic Dean his two decades of experience as a teacher of Classics, a former head of the Junior School, and former chairman of the Foreign Languages Department. Dr. Gaffney received his M.A., B.A., and Ph.D. at Vanderbilt University.

Directors

Mr. Robert Patrick serves as MBA's Director of College Counseling and teaches one class of English I. Mr. Patrick earned his B. A. from Kenyon and his J.D. from the University of Connecticut School of Law.

Ms. Janet Hensley serves as the Director of Admissions and Financial Aid and teaches a class of Ancient-Medieval history. She received her B. A. from Randolph-Macon Women's College, her M.A.T. from the University of North Carolina, and Masters plus hrs. in Education Administration from the University of Delaware and Tennessee State University.

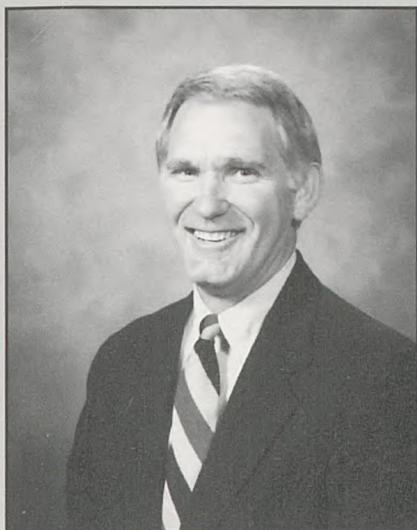

Ms. Janet Hensley

Mr. James Poston

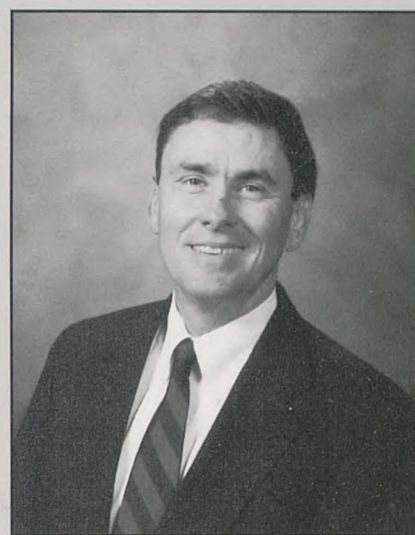

Mr. James Poston is MBA's Director of Guidance Counseling. Associated with the school for thirty-five years, he presently teaches English I and Drug and Sex Education. Mr. Poston also coaches Varsity Tennis Team and sponsors the Right Team. He has a B. A. from Belmont University and an M.A. from Peabody College.

Mr. James Tillman serves MBA as Athletic Director and teaches College Algebra/Trigonometry. He has his B.A. and M.A. from Peabody College.

Mr. James Tillman

Mr. Samuel Jackson serves MBA as Director of Finance. He has a B.A. from Auburn University.

Mr. Samuel Jackson

Alumni & Development Office

Alumni and Development

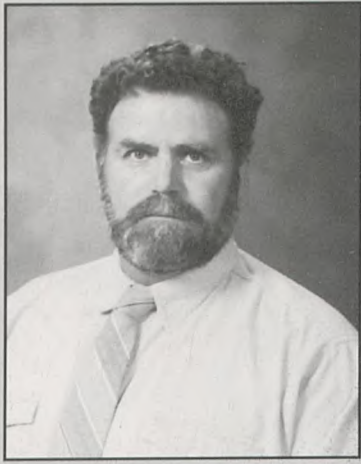

The Alumni and Development Office coordinates the activities of MBA and Wallace alumni, as well as parents and friends in the life of the school. It is also responsible for publication of the school magazine three times yearly. Most important, however, is directing fund-raising efforts for annual and capital needs and for the growth in the endowment. Alumni (61%) and parent (86%) participation in the Annual Fund are at record levels and are comparable to those at top independent schools across the country. The Annual Fund is projected to exceed $1 million during the 1996-1997 school year for the first time in MBA's history.

Tom Weaver '65, is the Director of Alumni and Development, and is assisted by Mrs. Vicki Mayhew. Ken Downey '82 supervises the Annual Fund in addition to teaching responsibilities in the History Department. Mrs. Ruth Napier is the Director of Events and Mrs. Peggy Kirby acts as the Administrative Assistant.

"48 Goals for 48 months," a Strategic Plan approved by the Board of Trustees in 1996, in part outlines development goals for increasing the school's endowment and expansion of the campus, as well as the addition of needed academic space in science and renovation of other campus facilities. These financial goals for the school's long-term strength are the responsibility of the Development Office and, in addition to the Annual Fund, events, and publications.

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY

Early last summer, MBA became a sponsor in the Nashville Area Habitat for Humanity's 10th Anniversary build. Steven Marler and William Gillmore got the ball rolling for this project at a Service Club planning committee meeting and assumed a large part of the responsibility during its early stages. They, along with Mr. Weaver, developed a list of alumni who might donate either money or supplies. MBA then teamed with Tad Wert and the Harpeth Hall Key Club officers to begin the task of fund-raising. Many businesses were eager to assist our project in at least some way, and by mid-August we were ready to begin construction.

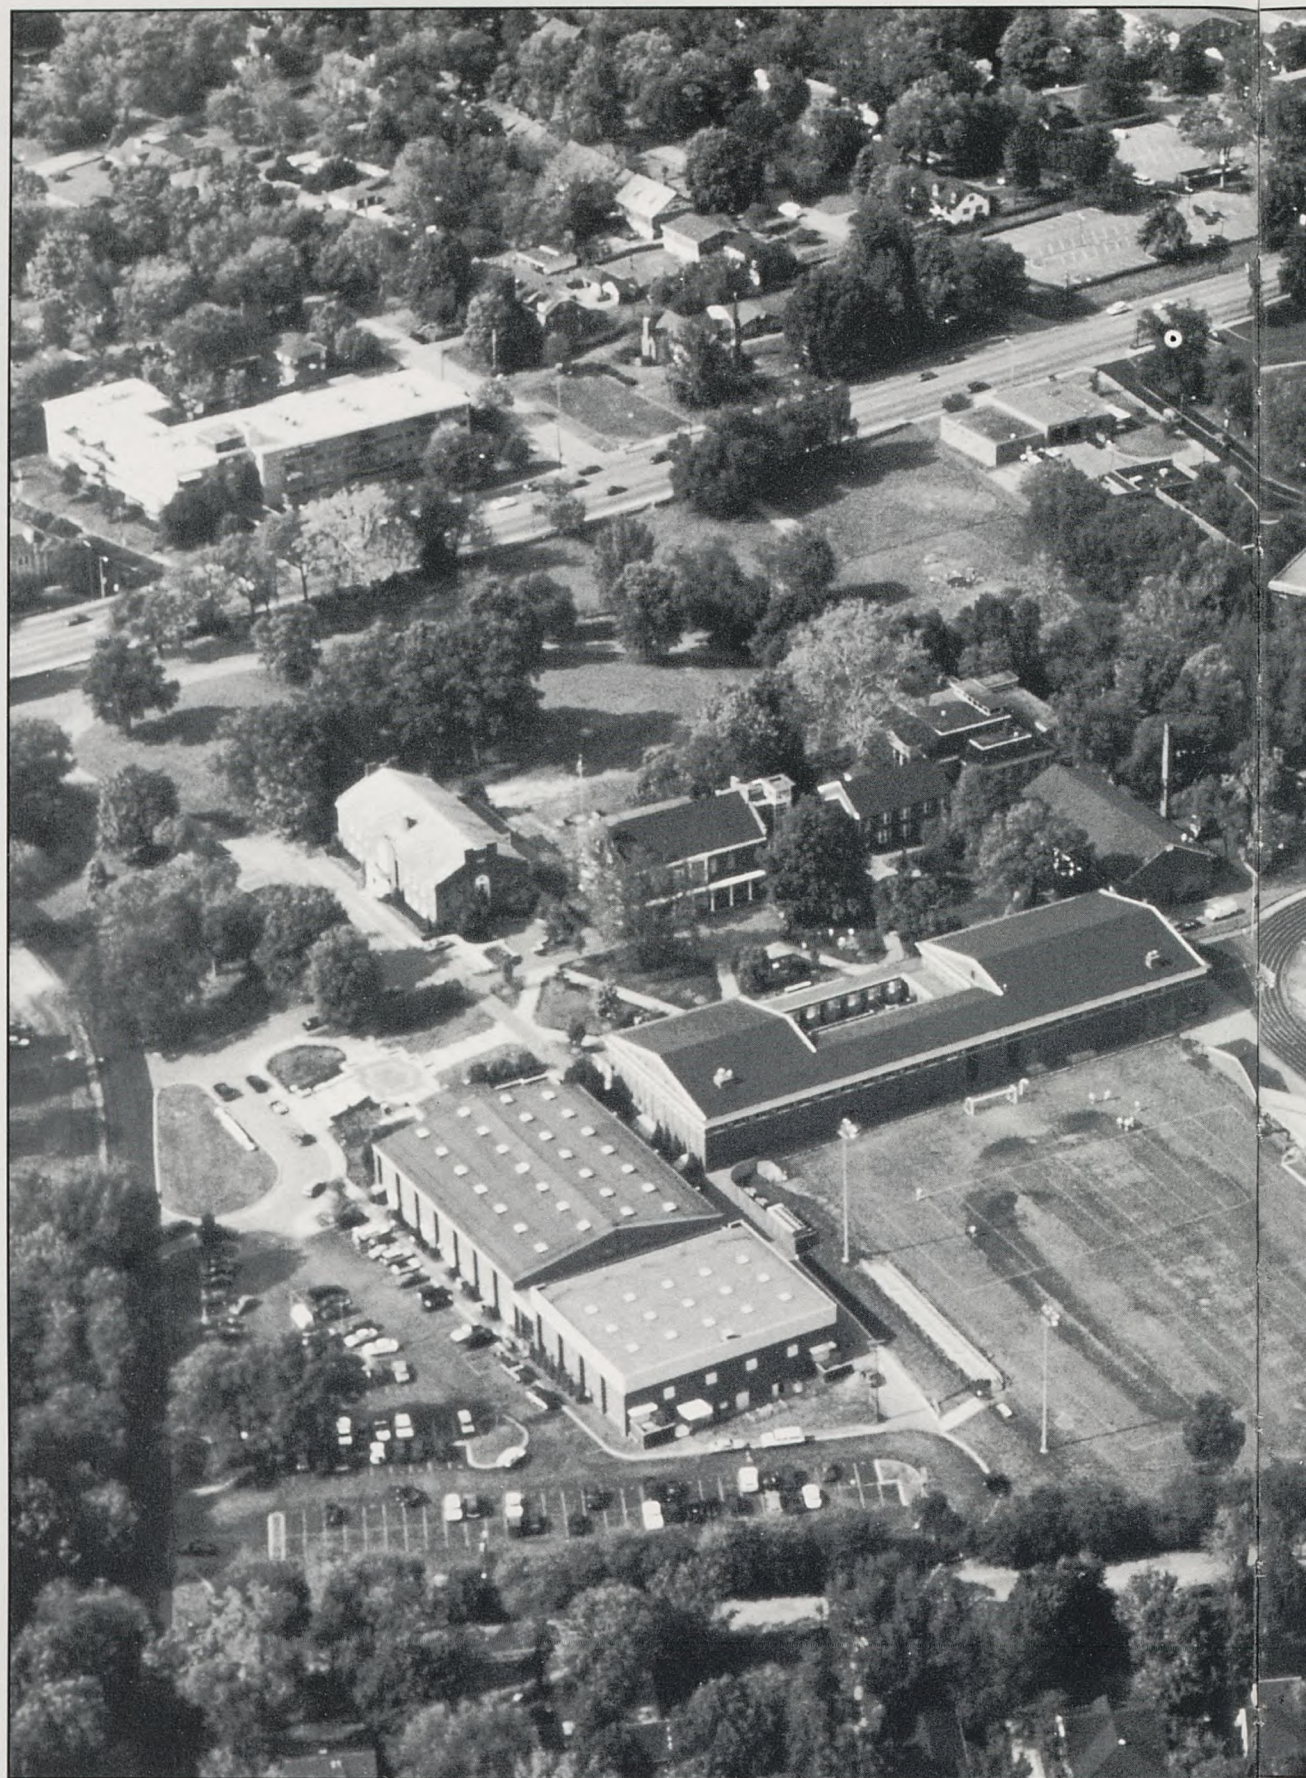

Habitat for Humanity makes home ownership a reality for families who could not qualify for a mortgage through conventional channels. Homeowners, chosen from a pool of applicants, repay the costs of their home with long-term, low interest loans. Habitat for Humanity is a nonprofit Christian organization that depends upon volunteers and donations from organizations like MBA. Our project received donations from several sources; the majority of the funding, however, came from MBA and Harpeth Hall alumni and parents. Our particular house was constructed primarily by MBA and Harpeth Hall students with help from faculty members (such as Dr. Springer, Mr. Killian, Mr. Womack, Mr. Pruitt, and Mr. Chenery), and carpenters provided by Habitat for Humanity.

Coach Bowers, Coach Elliot, and the MBA football team were the first volunteers to help with the construction of the house on August 17. By the end of Sunday, August 18, we had completed erecting the walls and the trusses, laying the roof decking and the shingles, and started on the siding. During the weekend of August 24-25, we completed the siding, the front porch, and the gutters. We had good turnouts by volunteers; we received help from the football team, the wrestling team, the cross-country team, and many other MBA and Harpeth Hall students. The project proved to be a fun one that enticed several students to return for more work. Justin Tatum, Sam O'Connell, Joe Hills, Will McInnes, Steven Marler, and Matt Beasley worked nearly every shift.

The house, now completed, was dedicated on September 8. The junior class, after the success of this year's project, is already planning MBA's participation in a second Habitat home.

The word that could best define the '96 Big Red Football team was champions. Thanks to vigorous weight-room training, the return of sixteen starters from a team that reached the final four the year before, and improved line play, the team captured MBA's first Region 6-5A crown and reached the third round of the playoffs before losing to the #12 team in the nation in double overtime.

MBA opened the season with a resounding victory against a highly touted Gallatin team, holding the Green Wave to just one complete pass and only 113 yards on the ground. MBA's next opponent, Clarksville NE and its two talented backs, would prove to be the biggest challenge of the regular season. The Big Red defense held strong the entire game, but without the aide of captain Max Fuller the offense sputtered in the fourth quarter, giving up three turnovers and sealing the loss with a failed fourth down conversion try.

The tough loss to Northeast seemed to lend a new intensity to the team. The Big Red marched to an undefeated record the rest of the regular season, rattling off four shutouts and outscoring their opponents 273-50, including a close win over Henry County and a 13-0 spoiler of Christian Brothers' first game in their new stadium. MBA's run extended into the playoffs, as they defeated McGavock in the first round and a huge Millington team in the second, setting up a rematch with the BA team that eliminated the Big Red from the playoffs the year before.

The big game opened before a capacity crowd at Tommy Owen Stadium with the MBA receiving the kick and marching 70 yards into Eagle territory before being held to a field goal. Both teams held each other scoreless for the rest of the first quarter, BA scored in the second to enter halftime with a 7-3 lead. After the break, the Eagles stopped a Big Red drive and converted on a field goal—the last score until the fourth quarter, when senior Paul Russell sent the game into overtime with a diving endzone catch.

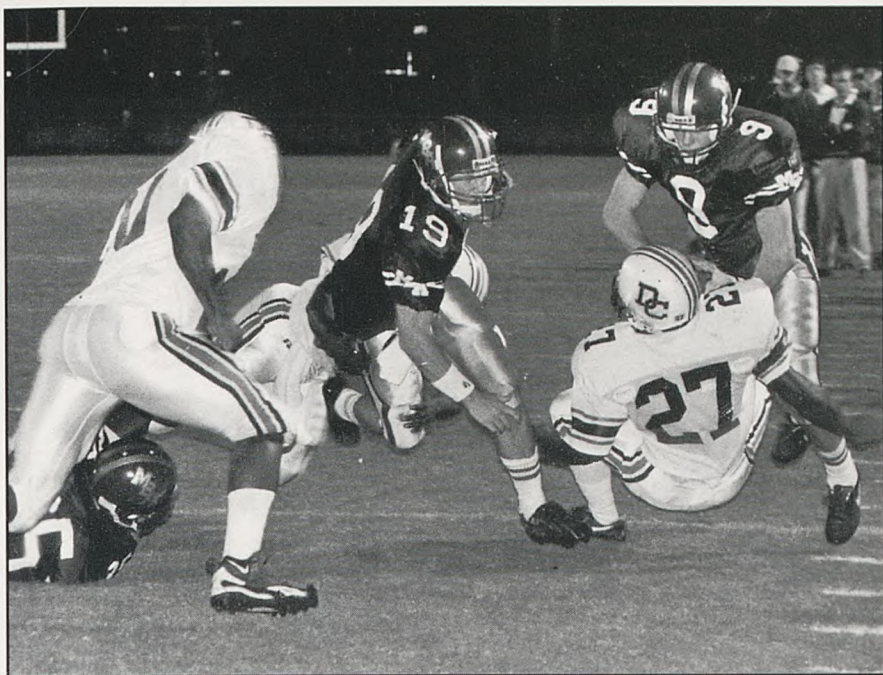

The Eagles scored first in overtime but were quickly answered by a third-and-five pass from Max Fuller to Will Bartholomew to send the game into double overtime. In the extra time, MBA was held to a Markham field goal, while BA sealed the game and the season 23-20 with a run up the middle.

Thanks to the loss of only three seniors from last year's .500 squad, hopes were high for a strong performance from the '96-'97 MBA Basketball team. But after a disappointing 2-5 start, including one stretch where the team lost four straight, the season looked unsalvageable until to a huge last-second win over Baylor and the arrival of the football players gave the team a much-needed shot of optimism going into the Christmas holiday.

Invigorated by holiday conditioning practices, the team packed its bags for Memphis and the Ross M. Lynn Classic. Thanks to superb play by Mike Godwin and All-Tournament Stephen Marler, the Big Red trounced Briarcrest, but came up short against Evangelical Christian School and eventual champs Memphis University School to finish fourth place in the tournament. Returning to Nashville, the team felt confident facing a tough eleven-game District schedule.

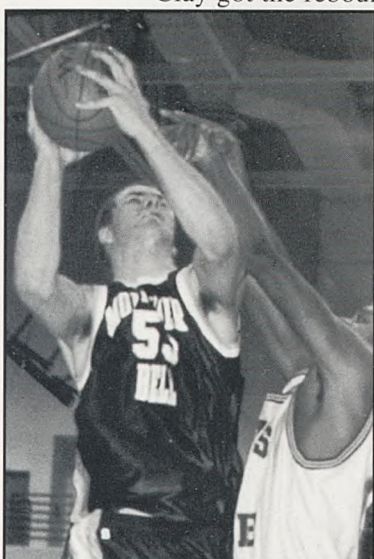

The rest of the regular season was a roller coaster for the basketball team, as they scored wins over Overton, Ryan, Antioch and District Tournament champ Hillsboro, but then suffered blowouts at the hands of Pearl Cohn and Whites Creek and close losses to McGavock, Glencliff and District 12 champions Maplewood. The Big Red opened the District Tournament with a rematch against a Ryan team they had defeated twice during the regular season. Thanks to the defensive pressure of seniors Max Fuller and Clay Hamblen held the Irish off for most of the game until a late run by Ryan sent the game into overtime. In overtime, clutch free-throw shooting by Hamblen and All-Tournament selection Michael Godwin seemed to guarantee a win until a desperation three by Ryan sealed the game and the season for MBA.

The Big Red Lacrosse Team had a good season, losing only one regular season game in the state and winning the Nashville Invitational Lacrosse Tournament for the seventh consecutive year. The season began with a close but satisfying victory over one of the top teams in the state, Christian Brothers. The team then traveled to Knoxville, where they faced their toughest opponent of the year, Moeller from Ohio, and lost after a great comeback effort in the second half. The Big Red then rallied for some great victories over Memphis University School, Baylor, and the University School of Nashville.

In the finals of the Nashville Invitational Lacrosse Tournament, MBA faced yet another Ohio team, St. Xavier, whom they easily beat after allowing only one goal in the first half. The Big Red brought McCallie to Nashville to play in Vanderbilt Stadium, where MBA was defeated by a single goal in the last minute of the game. In the final game of the regular season, the Brentwood Bruins were wiped off the field by a score of 19-6 and told to join the JV division, where they might be able to win a game or... a game. One week before the State Championships, the 1st Annual Alumni Lacrosse Game was held. The alumni team, which hosted many past All-Americans, could not defeat the younger, more energetic high schoolers and settled for a tie at 8-all. The lacrosse team would like to send out a special laugh to Jeff Lundstrom, who took a great number of shots but could find the net only twice. Regrettably, the Big Red then had a bad night in the semi-finals of the State Tournament and lost to Memphis University School.

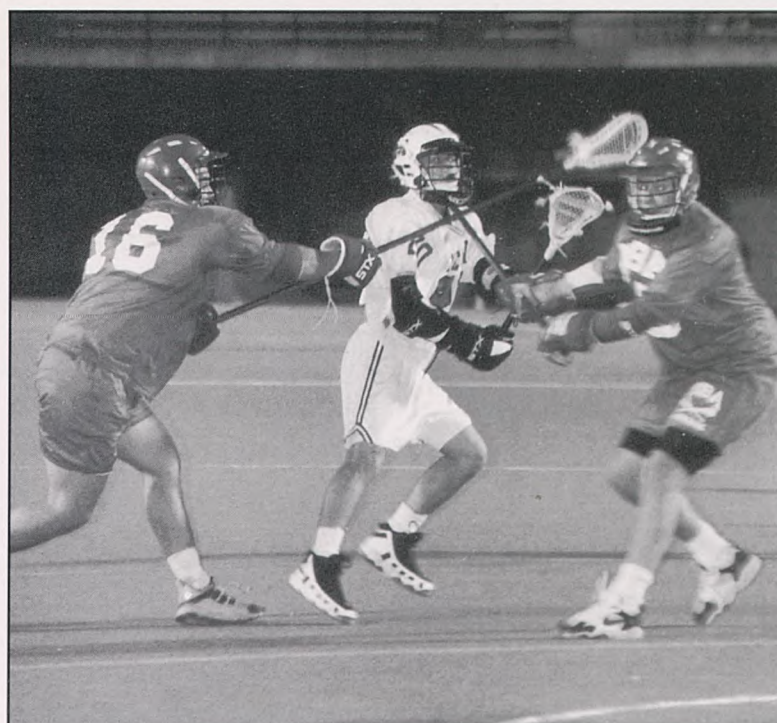

This young squad had three players, Aaron Ferguson, Tyler Coleman, and Grant Dickson, considered for the honor of All-American. The MVP of the season was, without a doubt, Tyler Coleman, who was an All-American as a junior and may receive that honor again. Five starters will be graduating from this year's team: attackman Aaron Ferguson, midfielder Jarrett Carden, defensemen Tyler Coleman and Justin Vaughn, and goalie Rob Gabbert. With a large number of returning starters and many promising underclassmen, the future outlook for the Big Red Lacrosse team is bright.

After making it all the way to the region finals last year, Big Red Baseball expected good things this year. The team was lead by a strong core of seniors and by the four juniors returning to the squad from last year. After a strong preseason, the Big Red started the season against a solid Cheatham County team, winning a commanding victory, with Duke Rose leading the way with 13 strikeouts, but an errant swing by a Cheatham County player broke the wrist of Matt Garrett, MBA's all-District catcher, putting him out for weeks.

Without team leader Matt or starting left fielder Will McInnes, (who dislocated his knee in the preseason) the Big Red traveled to Florida for spring training. While in Florida, the Big Red came together as a team, winning seven out of eight games, including a dramatic win over Texas powerhouse St. Thomas. Next, the Red traveled to Millington to compete in the USA Classic, a national high school baseball tournament, battling their way to fourth place in a field which included three nationally-ranked teams. Thanks to these successes, the team returned to Nashville with high hopes for a district title.

Unfortunately, the MBA team did not play as well in the district as hoped, losing three out of its first six games to Father Ryan, Hillsboro and Overton. Another bad week, with two non-district losses, saw the Big Red's record slip to 6-7, the low point of the season. But the team did not give up there, and instead turned the season around from that point on to finish the regular season with a record of 16-8, avenging the losses to Overton and Hillsboro and losing an emotional game against Ryan by one run..

MBA felt poised for a strong run in the District Tournament, but it was not to be. After a strong first game against Pearl-Cohn, the Big Red once again lost to Ryan, sending MBA to the losers' bracket. In the first elimination game, the team defeated Hillwood for the third time in the year, ending their season, but setting up the next game against Overton. The Big Red started off slowly, falling behind in the sixth inning, but stormed back, making it an 8-7 game in the seventh before their luck ran out.

The 1997 Big Red Track Team was virtually unstoppable, suffering defeats only three times by teams from Tennessee, and is destined to go down as the best track team in school history.

On April 23, MBA rolled to its third straight Doug Hall Relays victory in spite of having few runners compete in more than one event. The Big Red set meet records in the discus, shot put, and 3200m relay en route to its impressive win. Furthermore, All-American Scott Denbo was named the meet's most outstanding athlete for his key role in the discus and shot put relays.

After sweeping ten out of eleven events at the team region meet, the track team felt confident about its chances for a state title the following Saturday. Although the Big Red won the shot put, long jump, and 3200m relays while also tying for first in the shuttle hurdle relay, MBA came up short behind the Warriors of Memphis Central. While not winning was a disappointment, the team's second-place finish was the best ever in school history.

On the following Friday, the Big Red found itself ahead by over fifty points going into the running finals of the Optimist Relays. MBA swept the pole vault behind the efforts of John Ozier, Hunter Verner and Michael Eskin, and the Big Red finished one (Denbo), two (Bartholomew) in shot put. MBA's runners were not, however, outdone by their field counterparts. Thomas Felch continued his success in the hurdles, finishing first-place in the 110m high hurdles and fourth in the 300m intermediate hurdles and sprinter Michael Higgins showed that he still has some foot speed with his second-place finish in the 400m dash. David Dean turned some heads by racing to the silver in the mile and capping the meet off with a two mile win.

After resting most of the team for the Banner Relays, Coach Pruitt unleashed his field eventers upon the Region meet. With decathletes Stephen Marler and Michael Eskin finishing first and second in region, qualifying for state, and Paul Russell a strong third, MBA runners once again found themselves ahead by twenty-four points going into the second day. Using their extra rest from the Banner Relays, MBA won region for the fourth straight year, this time by about forty points over Hunter's Lane. The sole goal of region was, of course, to qualify individuals for state.

Eleven athletes took a ride on the train to 'Nooga. Surging from fourth to second after the final event, Marler missed Corzine's decathlon record by only three hundred points, and Eskin finished sixth. To the surprise of none, shot putters Denbo and Bartholomew swept their event. Missing the school record by a mere inch, Ozier soared to the silver in the pole vault, while teammate Verner finished seventh. After winning the region high jump, Paul Russell leaped into third place, clearing 6'6". Following the field events, the unit compiled of Tom Sherrard, William Lea, Dean, and Taber broke the school record in the 3200 relay by five seconds, finishing second. Distance guru Dean, who easily won the region two mile, closed out the MBA attack with a sixth-place finish. Overall, the army from Memphis Central once again triumphed over the Big Red. With four second-place individual finishes, a runner-up finish in Team State and in Individual State, MBA was definitely the second-best team in Tennessee.

After losing only one starter from last year's team, great things were expected from the soccer team this year. Under the leadership of seniors Josh Mixon, John Markham, Phil Armstrong and Furman-signee Scott Blount, the team raced to a 5-1-1 start, defeating McGavock, Memphis University School, Hendersonville, USN, and Donelson Christian, tying Christian Brothers, and losing to McCallie. As a result of the great start the team was ranked eighth in the state--the first time in four years that the Big Red had cracked the top eleven.

Unfortunately, the team went into a small slump during mid-season. Beginning with a tie (1-1) to a much inferior Overton team, the downturn continued with a tie to BGA, a poorly-played win against Hillwood, and a loss to Franklin High. The team broke out of the slump with a 1-1 tie with highly ranked Father Ryan, a 3-0 win over Hillsboro, and a 2-0 win over Clarksville Northeast. Overall, the team finished the regular season with a record of 8-2-4 and the #6 ranking in the state.

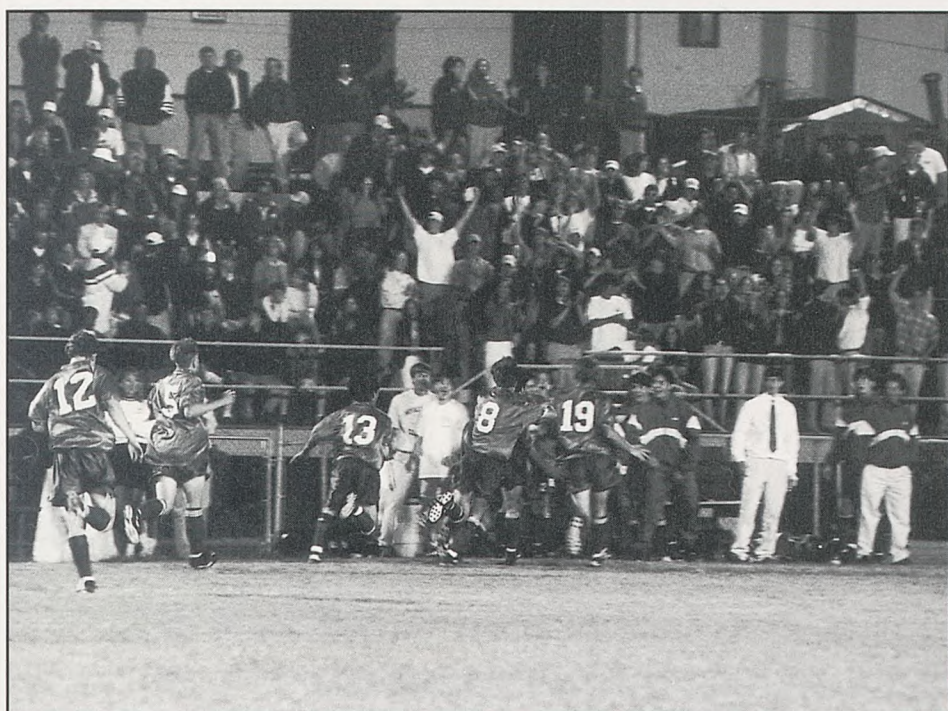

The soccer team, seeded second, began the District tournament by defeating Overton 5-1 behind goals from sweeper Josh Mixon, Beau Gorrell, team scoring leader Jay Davis, and midfielder Paul Wieck. The Big Red next shot down Ryan 1-0 in the District finals on the following Friday thanks to a free kick from Wieck that found the lower left corner of the goal. Riding high after its first victory over the Irish since 1993, MBA ended Hunter's Lane's season with a 2-0 win in the final round of the region tournament. Facing Ryan for the third time this year in the second round, the luck of the Irish prevailed as the Big Red fell 2-1. Finishing the season 12-3-4, MBA enjoyed its best year since 1993.

The '96-'97 season was the most successful this decade for the Big Red wrestling team, but was not without its share of obstacles and disappointments. The team was denied entry in the State Dual Tournament because the top two teams in the state were from the same region; the so-called top eight teams that competed in the tournament included two teams—Christian Brothers and Germantown—who had been previously defeated by MBA during the regular season.

Although the team's most memorable victories came in team competitions, MBA's performances in individual tournaments remained a strength. The squad placed high in the Overton Tournament, Father Ryan Invitational, and the Grand Championships and placed third in the Individual Region Tournament, behind the same two teams as it did in the Dual Tournament. Ten of the fourteen Region Tournament wrestlers made it to the State Tournament and three wrestlers won Region Championships.

Although the Big Red's performance in the Individual State Tournament was not up to par with the rest of the season, the team did produce its first State Champion since 1989. Will Bartholomew defeated the defending 215 lb. champ by one point to claim the title. Will was named the team's MVP while the Coaches' Award went to David Sanders for his outstanding wrestling and winning attitude throughout the season. The MBA wrestling team would like to thank Coaches Simpson, Killian, Spiegel, and Pederson, trainer Lyn Shannon, all the cheerleaders, and our parents.

Loosing four of the 1995 top runners, the outlook for the Big Red Cross Country team looked uncertain if not grim.

Bolstered by rookies-- Freshman William Lea, Adrian Cameron, Joe Montgomery, and Chris Nalbantyan-- MBA had a successfull Cross Country camp at Sewanee and a strong showing at the Drake Invitational Scrimage. After a disappointing Tennessee Classic finish, coaches Pruitt, Corzine and Rundberg coaxed everyone to the starting line at the A.F. Bridges Invitational for a strong showing. A wave of mono and illness swept through the team at the Lexington Invitational, but the solid running of Dean, Lea, Cameron, junior Colin Bonfiglio, and the reliable sophomore Hunter Verner, captured 6th place. Although a hipflexer injury bothered Dean in the Metor Championships, the rest of the team picked up the slack as we finished third. In the Region 5 AAA meet, Father Ryan cruised to the crown and MBA finished a distant second, in spite of the valliant effort of William Lea, who beat his personal record by twenty seconds. Going into the season finale, the State AAA meet, Ryan seemed a favorite contender for the state title, while the poles found the Big Red only the twelfth best team in the state. In perhaps the biggest surprise in MBA sports this year, the Big Red upset Ryan in a 6th place finish, our best reult since 1990.

The JV team met with similar success, as transfer John Hart and Joe Montgomery often finished first and second. Additionaly, freshman Mason Guiffre, sophomores P. Chen and Wall, junior Mark Burish, and seniors Raleigh Harwell, Joe Hills, and Lee Hampton helped MBA to a second place district finish.

Thanks to the return of five of the teams top six runners, MBA should regain the lost region crown, and contend strongly for the state next year. The team would like to thank Coaches Pruitt, Corzine, and Rundberg for their direction and support, as well as those parents and fans who cheered on MBA this season.

This year's varsity swimming team was quite successful under Coach Rundberg and Coach Seitters, the coach formerly known as Miss Leigh. The squad didn't lose a single dual meet, the most important of which was the Excel Invitational in Gallatin, where the Big Red triumphed over Brentwood, Ryan, and many others. Individual Excel Invitational winners included Adrian Cameron, Jonathan Chen, Peter Chen, Jonathan Baird, Chris Nalbantyan, and Chris Kellam, and also scoring for MBA were James Walton and David Landman.

Shaking off a cracked vertebrae, junior diving captain Michael Stahl stole the show at the TISCA Region diving competition by scoring 270 points en route to a first place finish. Three sport letterman sophomore David McIntosh backed Stahl up, taking the bronze, a mere 1.65 points out of second place. Not a bad start for MBA's first diving team ever.

In the other lane of the TISCA Region meet, MBA's swimmers were not outdone by the upstart divers, as they swept all three relay events. Last year, the lack of a diving team resulted in a Brentwood victory; this year, however, not much help was needed as the Big Red rolled to a 341 to 189 decision over second place Tullahoma. Ryan finished a dismal third with 178 points while Brentwood was nowhere to be found.

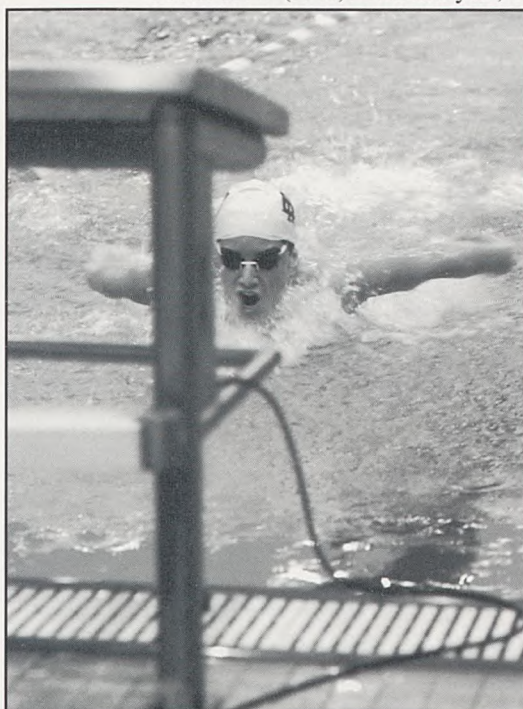

MBA followed its region championship with an impressive third place finish in the state tournament behind perennial swimming powers Baylor and McCallie. Sophomore Jonathan Baird won the 100m breast stroke state championship, while classmate Adrian Cameron placed second in the 500m freestyle and third in the 200m freestyle, and the "A" relay team withstood a disappointing disqualification to finish impressively. With the success of two returning underclassmen, the future of MBA's swimming team promises to be bright.

The MBA Tennis Team began this season with high self-expectations, but was considered an underdog when compared to the powers of Baylor, McCallie, and MUS. The loss of the McGugin twins created an extra large pair of Sebagos for seniors Jake Beesley, Brew Davis, and Carter Paine to fill. This year's team was a combination of young and old; freshmen Brenton Peterson and Bryan Fisher and sophomore Andrew Fuller were forced to emerge to provide much needed wins in the #4, #5, and #6 spots.

After several disappointing losses and some accompanying bad press, the team was forced to rely on a mystical force known to teams across the South as the Monkey Stick. The stick provided a needed NITesque win at the Atlanta Buckhead Rotary in the "B" division in the midst of Freaknik, where legendary coach Jim Poston attained nirvana.

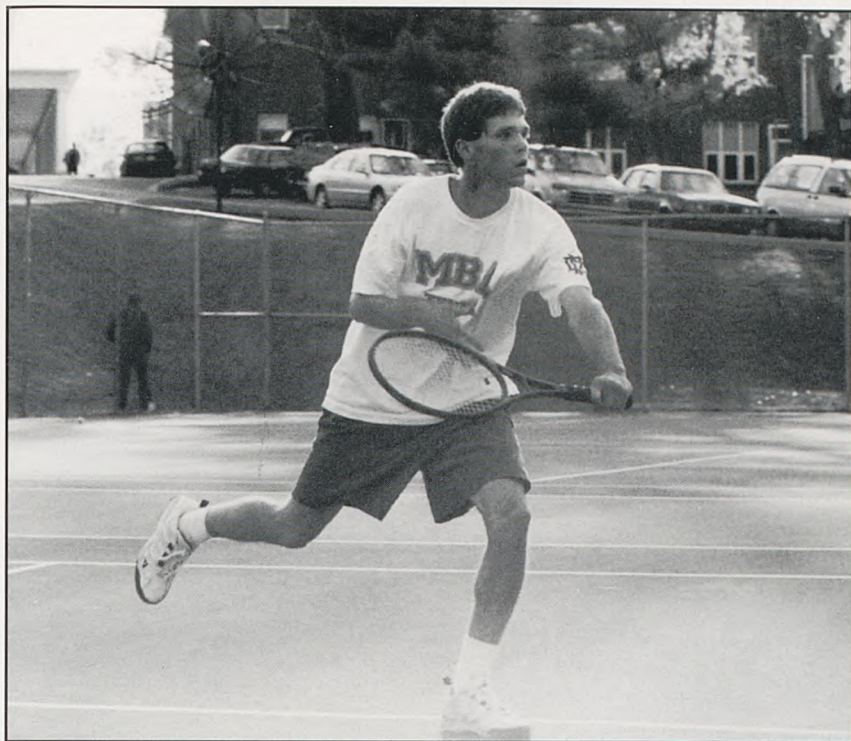

The team headed into the state team and individual tournaments with a newly found desire and some aid from local phenom pro Russel Buchi, who emerged from retirement to help coach the Big Red. The team breezed through district, regional, and sub-state competition en route to the state final four. In individual competition, Davis-Beesley won the district doubles, Paine-Fisher won the region doubles, and Fuller reached the final in both the district and region.

At state, the Big Red ripped through Knoxville Webb 4-0 in the semis and faced Baylor in the final round. The team put up a valiant fight before losing 4-3 in a raucous environment including chants of "USA" against the Baylor players. Brew Davis dispensed primitive screams and yelps as he conquered an angry young man known to the Big Red as "Stephan's neighbor." In individual competition, Paine-Fisher reached the semis before losing 6-4 in a three set match. Beesley-Davis had the chance to avenge their teammates' loss in the final, and were successful in their quest, becoming the fourth straight MBA doubles team to win the state doubles championship. Jim Poston ended the season by becoming a believer in the Monkey Stick and its perverse initiation process.

WEENIE BOWL

Thanks to overtime heroics by Senior Morgan Hillenmeyer, MBA's Golf Team survived yet another scare in the Weenie Bowl. Regulation time was marked by momentum shifts and MVP-performances. The beginning of the game was dominated by the runners, as cross-country MVP Joe Montgomery racked up three touchdown catches and a key interception; the Golf Team, however, kept it within a touchdown. The momentum of the game took a decided shift to the Golf side when a Tatum interception set up the tying touchdown to Beaver and made the score 35-35. After Burish and Greek traded touchdowns, refs the Beezer and Carden called for overtime. The runners got the ball first in overtime, but failed to score. The golfers took the ball at their 20 and advanced to midfield before the second down pass fell incomplete. But on Third and one, game MVP Tatum found Hillenmeyer alone in the endzone for the win, 49-42

WEENIER BOWL II

The Debate Team avenged the humiliation of Weenier I by whipping the thespians 42-14. After a provocative challenge by debate senior Robert "Hoss" Ross, the teams met on the Thursday before Christmas. From the start, the actors had their work cut out for them, as their senior leadership decided not to brave the sub-zero windchill. After both teams traded scoreless possessions, the debaters blew open the game, scoring 35 unanswered points thanks to the field leadership of game MVP Rob Humbracht, and the quickness of defensive MVP Mr. Coverstone. On the following Monday in assembly, Debate seniors "Hoss" Ross and Yopp! presented Mr. Gioia and the school with Hetar, the shrunken head on a stick, to commemorate their victory.

The 1996-97 school year proved a banner year for the MBA music department. Chamber Orchestra members Hanlin Qian, Justin Yasay, and David Yi performed at numerous concerts, one of them with the Nashville Symphony. H.M.S. Pinafore, a project involving the entire arts department, was produced in April and set new box office records for ticket sales.

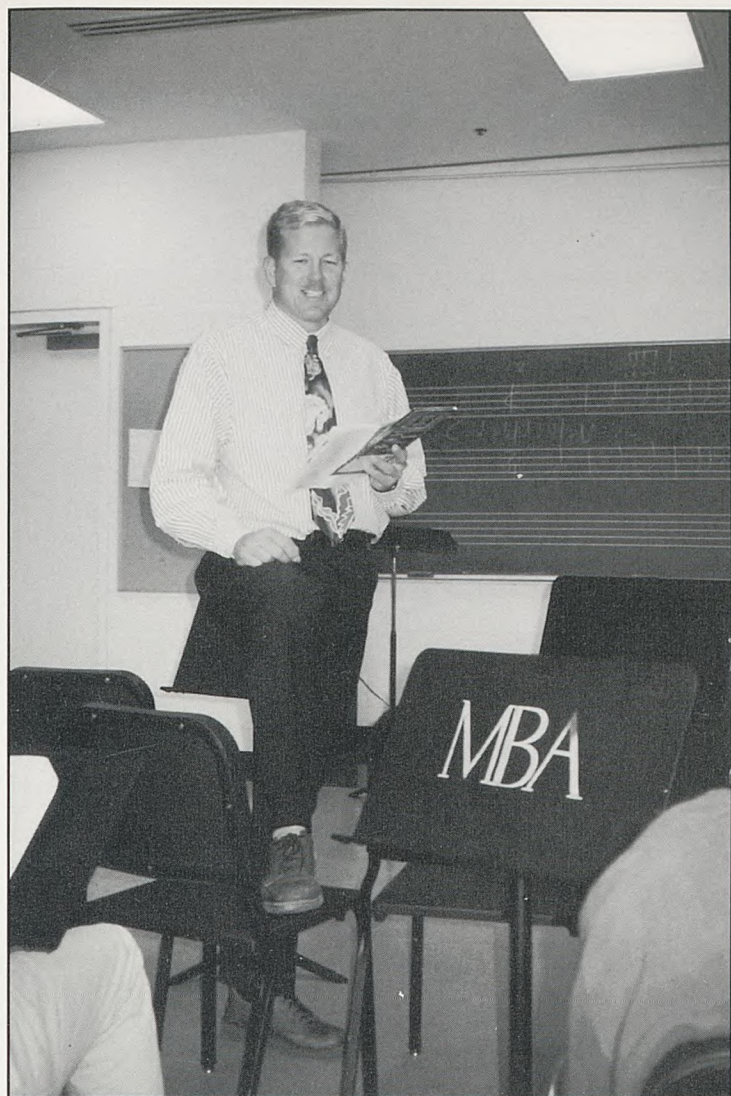

The Jazz Band and Chorus also performed several successful concerts such as the Mother's Day Concert and the Winter Concert. Seniors Philip Zimmerman, Sean Cunningham, and Whitney Huelette helped to anchor the group this year by taking the lead in productions like H.M.S. Pinafore and being in clubs like the Barber Shop Quartet. Also, the Jazz Band backed them up at concerts and events throughout the year. Playing jazzy holiday tunes and the like, seniors Brian Stults, Arun Anandiah, and Rob Ross took the solos.

FORENSICS

Bizarre interest in the occult, the conquest and abuse of small schools in Alabama, the survival of heinous acts of terrorism, and, of course, the relentless pursuit of national domination were once again the norm on the MBA Debate team. Dedicated debaters voluntarily imprisoned themselves in various summer programs all over the country held at Wake Forest, Kentucky, Dartmouth, Michigan, Northwestern, and Iowa. Scholarships were awarded to Michael Risen, Mark Yopp!, and Nathan Sabel for their participation in the University of Kentucky Fellow/Scholar summer program. Brian "Online" Stults chose to stake out Wake Forest in the company of "infamous" Alan Coverstone, and rising Juniors Rob "Ego" Humbracht and Jøsh Hildreth attended programs at Michigan and Wake respectively.

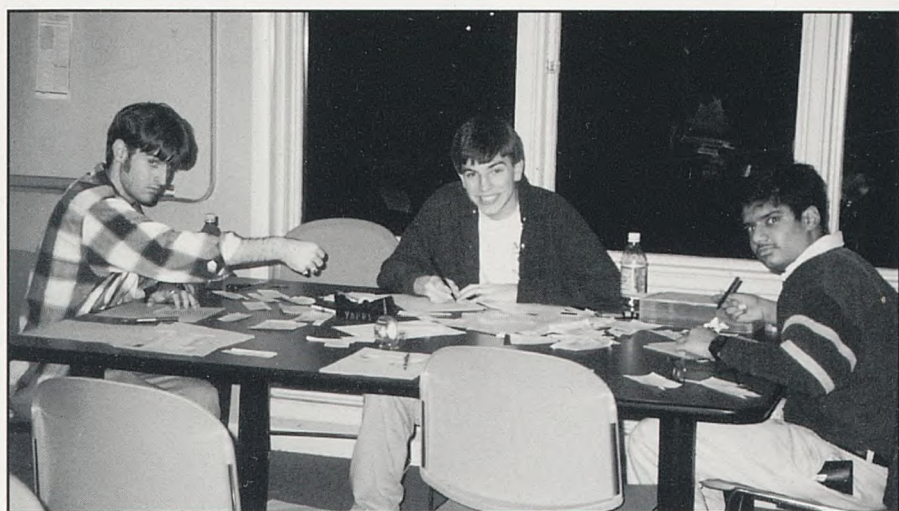

The serious push began at the beginning of classes in the fall and the competitions at the Greenhill, TX and Wake Forest, NC early in the season. Michael & Brian distinguished themselves early on as a force to be feared on the circuit, reaching the semi-final round at Wake, and even more impressively achieving 2nd place at the Greenhill Round Robin. Later in the year, these two gladiators were invited to the prestigious Glennbrook Round Robin, IL where they repeated their previous success, achieving a fourth place standing. Nate "Gawd" Sabel and Mark "2-White" Yopp! fought their way into breaks at Greenhill and throughout the year, encountering some of the best teams the nation has to offer. The same was true for Jøsh and Rob, who established themselves early on as one of the most competitive junior teams in the country by breaking top seed at the national Wake Forest tournament. As the year progressed, these six Horsemen of the Appocolypse, working in 'relative' harmony, achieved a myriad of team and personal victories, compiling with the JV a collective pool of close to 40 bids to the Tournament of Champions, far exceeding the number of teams that MBA has ever qualified for the TOC.

Success was not endemic only at top of the debate food chain; the JV teams, after an unprecedented novice year last season, blasted their way to victory on numerous occasions, with Robbie "the Mighty" Quinn and Master Swearingen in conjunction with Samir "Samir!" Idnani and Raja "The Individual" Gaddipati breaking and diving deeply into the elimination rounds at Homewood, Glennbrooks, Vestavia, and many others. All four of these JV members swiped TOC bids normally guarded jealously by junior and senior debaters on the national circuit.

The novi homines this year, under the tutelage of Dennis DeYoung, were sucessful from beginning to end, with Ben "the anti-Phil" Sabel and Joe "Cupcake" Marianelli announcing to the the world that indeed this program will not go quietly into the night. Cameron Wild and Chad Davidson swept onto the scene as well, accompanied by Sea-Bass, Gruhn, and Kevin "Small World."

The Lincoln-Douglas program thrived as Adam Hill rose to fill the varsity mantel, encountering resistance from some of the best senior debaters in the country. Andy Andrews was taken under Adam's wing and taught the ways of the LD world, its values, and all the moral stuff.

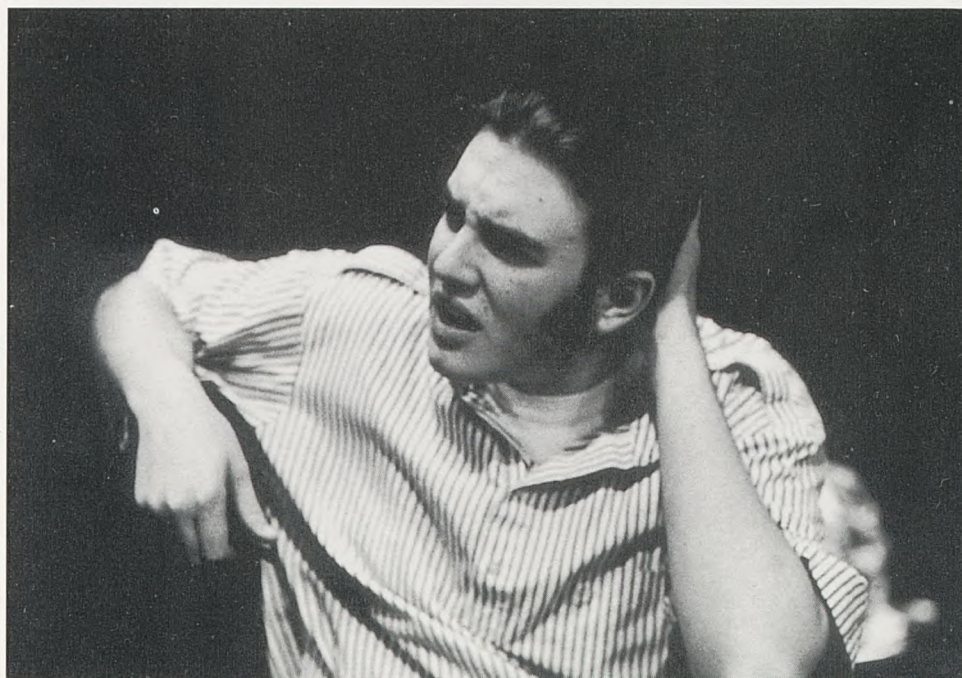

Tatonian oversight was present throughout as is customary, and Alan "I'd like to see my wife sometime" Coverstone exerted postive force as needed to inspire both hope and fear to accomplish the desired end of victory. Always running on coffee and a desire to beat Greenhill, Coverstone nudged the entire squad into a unified effort to produce on the dream of greatness.

At the end of the year, Novices and JV debaters travelled to the Woodward Academy Tournament in Atlanta. In novice debate, MBA reached the Octa-final rounds, while the team of Robbie Quinn and Travis Swearingen, running Casey, won the tournament. Also in May, the MBA Varsity qualifiers travelled to the TOC in Lexington, KY. Out of one of the most competitive fields in the country, Michael Risen and Brian Stults barely missed breaking, placing 19th seed. The other MBA teams compiled an impressive record, proving our hopes at the beginning of the year had come true. Thank yous go out to Judd Kimball and Adrian Brovero who helped us out at a crucial time this year. Mucho-Mega-Super Thanks go out to Alan Coverstone, Dennis DeYoung, Gordon Hull, and Coach Tate; without all of your efforts, we wouldn't have had this incredible year. Thanks.

The 1996-97 season marked a turning point in MBA Theatre as it was Director Bart Whiteman's final year. The Theatre Club started the year with Dark of the Moon, a play about the relationship between a witch-boy and a farm girl. The student directed and produced one acts, known as "The Construct", were next. Seniors Brent Elrod, Greg LaVigne, Adam Vahrenkamp, Adam Laughbaum, and Gary Braren were the directors who took on such challenging writers as Sam Sheppard and Eugene O'Neil. Shakespeare's Much Ado About Nothing, the winter play, ended the year for the senior actors Greg LaVigne, Adam Laughbam, Adam Vahrenkamp, Thom Little, Gary Braren, Brent Elrod, and Ryan Witt.

The final Production for the year was H.M.S. Pinafore which was helmed at the acting wheel by chorus members. Seniors Whitney Huelette, Philip Zimmerman, Matt Hale, and Sean Cunningham all got a taste of acting in the production. Also, for the second time ever, a faculty member, Dr. Griffith, took part in the play. Over all the year was successful with record breaking box offices for all four productions. Next year, Sam O'Connell, Chris Callister, Jesse Eaves, Andy Camerata, Court Clement, Owen Tidwell, and Jonathan Sewell, among others, will help forge a new theater department with the help of a new theater director.

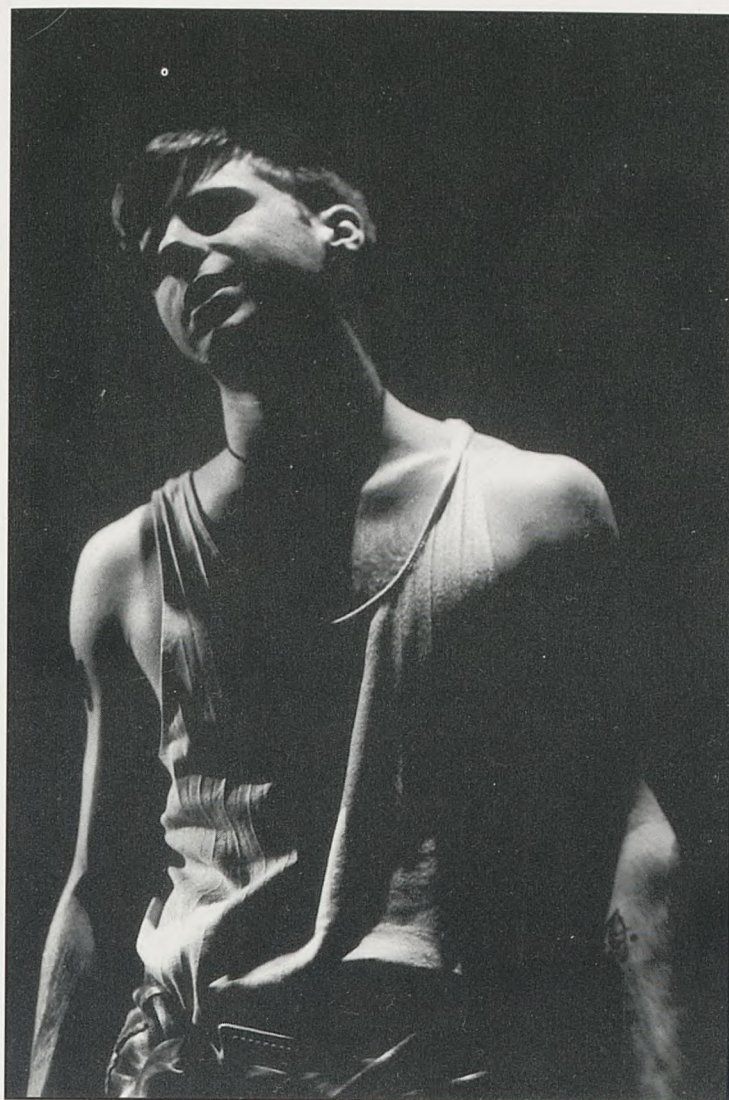

You know the Denorex is working when the tingle comes.

ORGANIZATIONS

Honor Council

Established in 1945 the Honor Council is a twelve-member judicial panel elected by the students. This group of students strives to promote honor on the campus through the Honor Code, which prohibits lying, cheating, and stealing. If a peer is believed to have broken the Honor Code, the council tries the suspected student and recommends appropriate punishments. The goal of the Honor Council is to allow a convicted student a chance to recognize and correct mistakes as well as creating an atmosphere of trust in the MBA community.

In this its 51st year, the Honor Council was led by president Will Connelly and council sponsor Mrs. O'Connell. The Honor Council as always saw more cases than their goal at the beginning of the year which is always the optimistic amount of zero Honor Council violations. Other senior officers include Jake Beesley, Matt Berry, and Brew Davis. The Council also includes students from the eighth, ninth, tenth, and eleventh grade.

As always the Student Council carried on its supreme reign over student activities on the campus under the expert tutelage of Dr. Crowell. Led by Student Body president John Buchanan the Student Council oversaw such activities as Casual Day and break period doughnuts. With other senior officers Mark Yopp, Hanley Sayers, and Tom Sherrard, the Student Council also put together this year's more than thrilling Homecoming Dance. Entertainment for the kiddies at the dance was the super band JOUS. Opening act for JOUS was the supreme local band The Red Herring made up entirely by student members. Other big news for the Student Council is the revision of the Student Body Constitution which the Student Council undertook as the focus of the school year so that the student body can have a guiding light into next year.

Totomoi, MBA's honorary fraternity founded in 1954, recognizes juniors and seniors who have shown outstanding leadership in academic achievement, athletics, service to the school, community service, and contributions in upholding the motto "Integrity, Loyalty, and Service." Inductoin into Totomoi is considered a great achievement for an MBA student, alumnus, staff member, or friend of the school. The inductees this year were: Mr. Wills, Matt Berry, John Buchanan, Brian Stults, Lee Hampton, Clay Hamblen, Chris Nalbantyan, Joe Montgomery, Todd Moran, Russell Taber, Ben Gambill, Sam O'Connell, Mark Burish, Grant Dickson, and Michael Stahl.

The purpose of the Junior Honor Society is to recognize those students who have distinguished themselves academically during their early years at MBA. In order to be eligible, a student must have three consecutive semesters with an average of 90, each semester during the 7th-8th, 8th-9th, and 9th-10th grades. These semester averages must be earned at MBA and cannot be transferred from a previous school's records. After five semesters have been completed in the high school, students are dropped from the Junior Honor Society. A student must maintain an average of 85 to remain in the society.

Cum Laude

Cum Laude, a national high school society equivalent to Phi Beta Kappa, recognizes the highest academic standing among its inductees. The following students were honored early this year with acceptance to MBA's Chapter of the Cum Laude Society: (front) Jake Beesley '97, Matt Hale '97, Joey Crace '98, Preston Bottomy '98, and Derrick Fuller '98; (middle) Michael Griffin '98, Mark Burish '98, Scott Blount '97, Russell Taber '97, and Ben Gambill '97; (back) Jonathan Chen '97, Yasunori Hashimura '98, Grant Dickson '98, Michael Stahl '98, Matt Beasley '97, and Tom Mitchell '97.

Recycle MBA

Recycle MBA continues its dominance on the MBA campus as the heart of the campus' cleanliness. The club has also been awarded dominance in the city with a plaque and $250 award. Under the supervision of presidents John Buchanan, Jesse Eaves, and Sam O'Connell as well as sponsor Mr. Moxley, Recycle MBA continues to reign supreme in a city and a world where recycling is all the new rage. In the past, Recycle MBA has had problems with students recycling wrong materials, but in the second year of the big bin down by the tennis courts, the only problem with recycling is teachers failing to empty their cans of all liquids adding a hinderence to the clubs success.

Soup Kitchen

The MBA Soup Kitchen continued its third year as a completely student funded activity. Occurring on the first of every month, the Soup Kitchen takes an excursion over the river for the purpose of feeding the homeless a good warm meal. Recognized as the best soup kitchen in town by its patrons, MBA took many new steps this year with their meals including the famous MBA Spaghetti. However, the students were not quite ready to completely start with a new menu, they continued with the tradition of such main and secondary courses as meatloaf and biscuits and beans. The Soup Kitchen is led monthly by the culinary expertise of MBA's own Dr. Crowell.

Service Club

The MBA Service Club continued its second year of a rebuilding process by changing the constitution and incorporating the system of three Senior officers and two Junior officers. The Service Club also took on a new policy of hours required for membership. The new policy states that for membership, a student needs two quarters with ten hours or more, and for officer eligibility three quarters with ten or more hours. Along with constitutional changes, the club took on a range of new excursions into the realm of public service. The club has extended into helping out at an old folks home as well as other traditional stops as Our Kids and Soup Kitchen.

Style was the prevailing theme of the Bell Ringer in the aspect of the realistic paper. Gone from the days of old is the old paper with its massive tree per issue in its hulk of a paper, in favor for the newsprint, which as a comfort for readers, is easy to fold and occasionally has a picture of a cheerleader or two. Humor also infiltrated the paper in the articles of Robert Ross who wrote about such socially challenging issues as TV reruns and syndicated television as well as the Myers Briggs test (Blast you Scott Baio!). The paper was led by Editor-in-Chief Lee Hampton and sponsor Mrs. Hamblen, and staffed by editors Robert Ross, Arun Annandiah, Preston Bottomy, A.J. Byrd, Brian Stults, and Matthew Berry.

Boys' and Girls' Club

This year was a benchmark for the Boys' and Girls' Club program. Not only was participation high, but also we finally entered the twenty-first century. After receiving an educational grant, Mr. Moxley purchased five laptop computers and furnished educational programs for the students. Now, students could use programs like Adventuring the Nile and Sharks!. We now are able to spend time helping the students with homework, playing basketball, or teaching technology skills. Thank you to Mr. Moxley for his unending dedication to the club and patience with the tutors. Next year will be even more successful.

Nathan and Sam are inspired by the campus

This year, The Bell started its voyage into the twenty-first century under the supervision of Editor-in-Chief Michael Risen and his muses, Al Pacino and Sting. The Bell welcomed with open arms a new sponsor, Dr. Barrow, who was a high school annual editor himself. Other editors include Sam "Sure-I'll-get-it-Done" O'Connell, Mark "Where's V?" Yopp, Ice Cube, Hoss and T. Hoss, Sorta Sable, and Joe Montgomery (or is it Sam?). As a whole, these editors were untrained, but miraculously finished off the book you are reading now. For those of you who actually read the organization articles, now is a time for the Bell staff to tell you some more about "Memories, Fun, and You". With the collective muse of Al Pacino overlooking the staff we worked long and hard, even spending weekends working on the yearbook so that you the student can look back and laugh with and at your friends. The cover this year is an original. Sort of. The 1976 Bell was a matted finish, but didn't have the stylish metal-like raised ring. The black cover just looks cool. We would like to thank Mr. Moxley who said that he wasn't advising this year- but he has still been crucial to the publication of this book. We would also like to thank a few crucial people: Pat Corbey at Pomeroy Computer Sources, who exorcised the evil demons from our Mac; the great people at Pro-Photo, who helped us meet a few pinch deadlines; and, most importantly, Mr. Weaver, who is just as much part of this book as any of the editors. THANK YOU!!!! For everyone we lost along the editorial trail, thanks for 'trying.' So without any further malarkey, continue on and laugh some more, remembering the year you all experienced together.

 Tasting your liquid like a serpent,
 I became overwhelmed by the richness of your love.

I won WHAT?

'Nuff said

Did I ever tell you I scored four touch downs in one game for MBA?

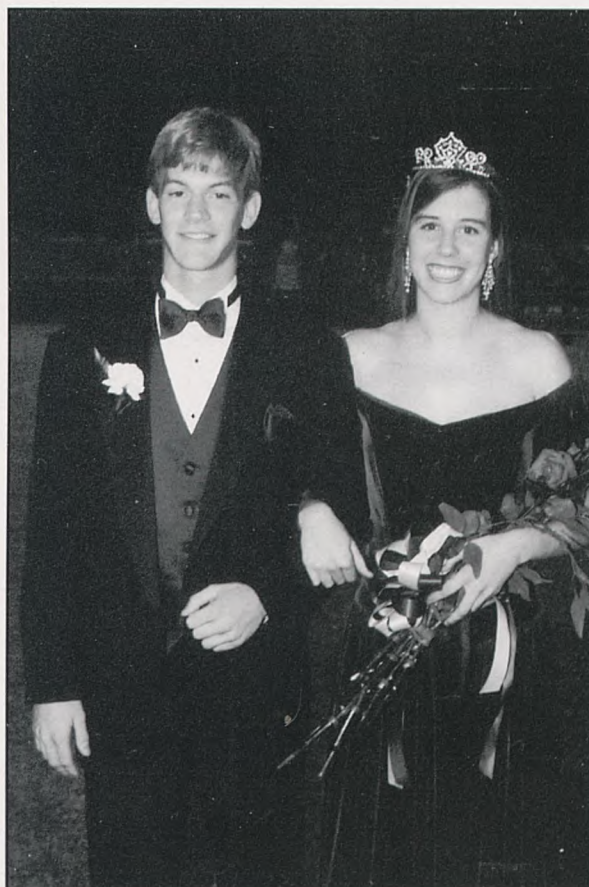

Connelly can't help but snicker at the fact that Yopp's date was taller than him.

Unlike the masses, the Spaghetti Gods approved of the night's meal, and they gave thanks.

DEDICATION

Throughout the past decade at MBA, Mrs. Christeson has been very helpful in the junior school. She is the head of the language department, teaches two Latin classes, and often helps in substituting for other classes. Recently she was honored with a politeness award. In addition to these she coaches track and cross country. For her contributions we dedicate the junior school section of the 1997 year book to Mrs. Anne Christeson.

CONGRATULATIONS

Dear Adam, I'm so in awe of the many gifts and qualities that God has given to you. Continue to seek after Him and to serve Him with all your heart. I'm so proud of the man you are becoming. I love you dearly, Mom.

"But those who trust in the LORD for help will find their strength renewed. They will rise on wings like eagles; they will run and not get weary; they will walk and not grow weak." Isaiah 40: 31

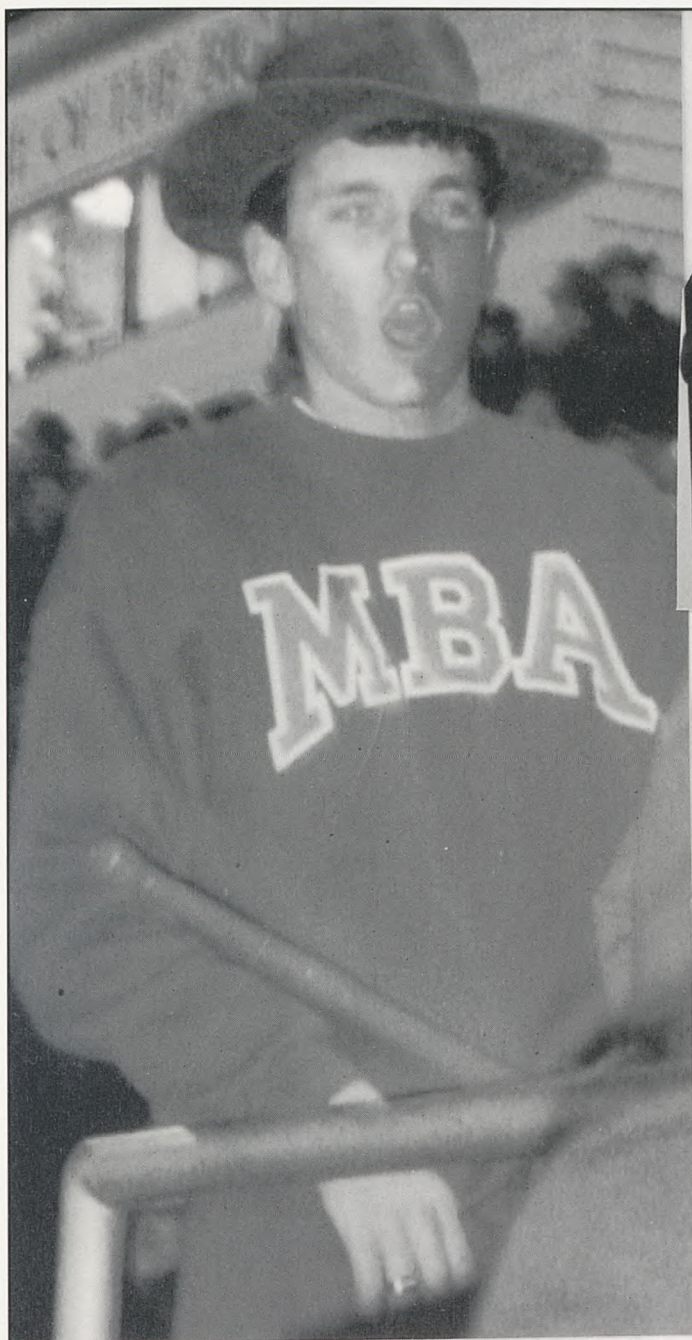

Adam, did you ever think that four years would dare to pass so quickly? Constantly, I want you to know how much I admire you as a person and how much I love you as my son.. I remain forever yours in Christ, Dad

WHAT THE !@*c¥¶! HAPPENED TO...

Braxton Felts— After collecting on his dare to eat a formaldehyde-soaked worm, Braxton left MBA and promptly blew it all at the Wayne Newton Theater in Branson, MO. Now trying to get back on his feet, Braxton works as a taste-tester for the makers of Drano, Clorox, and other harmful household chemicals.

Safa Homayoon— Recently transplanted to San Francisco, Safa decided to stop faking illness and now attends school regularly.

John Kordowski-- The Bell's sources indicate that shortly after he left MBA, John went insane and now lives on the streets of Chicago, declaring himself one of Peter Pan's Lost Boys and drinking his acne medication, which he claims to be an aphrodisiac.

Josh Munn-- Having left MBA after taking the movie Robin Hood a little too seriously, little has been heard from Josh. Still, rumors have arisen that he is now trying to reunite the band Poison because "the guitarist is awesome."

Adam Fisher— A devotee of the film Tootsie starring Dustin Hoffman for as long as he could remember, Adam recently took his crusade to make it the nation's official movie to Washington. Adam writes The Bell, "It is a shame this movie hasn't been recognized for what it is—an American classic. From J. Edgar Hoover to Jerry Springer, there is nothing more American than mom's apple pies and cross-dressing."

Jeremy Kane— Having left MBA to train for the Olympics, Jeremy's promising swimming career was cut short by a tragic bad hair day. Now that his swimming ability no longer hides his mediocre personality, Jeremy has been shunned by society and wanders the streets of south California, swearing that he's Jack Nicholson's love child.

Simon Moore— Having decided that MBA was not open-minded enough to accept his unique artistic vision, our resident pencil artist extrordinaire moved to California. Now working as a mural drawer, his latest work, Composition 69, was purchased by Michael Jackson for his chimp Bubbles's birthday.

Alastair Wood— A citizen of the British Isles, London newspapers report that he has fallen afoul of Scotland Yard for his crashing concerts claiming to be the "sixth Spice Girl, Alastairna."

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Bell's sources are notoriously unreliable, so the chance of these reports being true are about the same as there being a stable marriage in the Kennedy family.

Editors' Page

Well, here it is. 240 pages of pure excitement- 20 more action packed pages than last year's. I couldn't imagine the completion of this book last fall, but here it is in your hands.

As editor-in-chief, I never could have published the book without the help of a lot of people. In no particular order my major major thanks go out to.....

Dr. Barrow- Bet you never thought that being advisor would be anything like this. Thank you for your credit card and your advice, yearbook and otherwise. If I EVER get evangelic mail from the Robertson Ministries, I know who to call. Thank you for your patience and consideration- we got through it!! It can't be any harder next year!

Mrs. Bradshaw, Mrs. Patrick, Mrs. Garriot, and Mrs. Howell- THANK YOU!! Your help in all of the computer/printer problems cannot be measured- We couldn't have done it without you all!

Mr. Weaver- Your pictures and humor have kept me and the entire staff sane.

Mr. Moxley- Still there to help us, my thanks to you again

Mark Yopp- Thanks for all of your hard work-entertaining us and doing all the senior bio work. Donuts, coffee, and 300 lbs. transvestites- ah the memories.

Robert Ross- the annual wouldn't be very funny without you. Your sports section is excellent- especially since this was your first time to ever use computer layout. Your exactness and creativity have helped to make this book great.

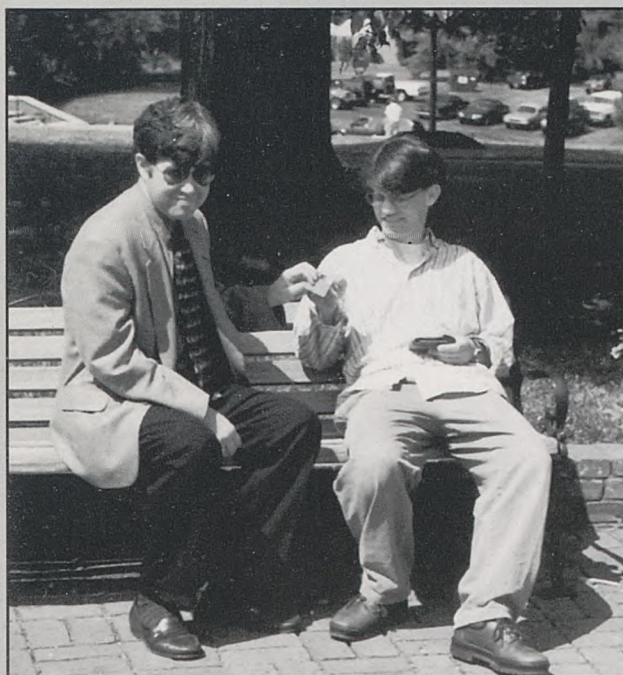

Joe Montgomery- another great year of photography and putting up with strange and illogical demands. You always made time to take the pictures and go to the microbe games- the book wouldn't happen without your help.

Chris Nalbantyan- Not always with us physically, I can't thank you enough for the work you've done on the ads- the book was expensive because of its length and you came through with the extra ads.

Sam O'Connell and Brian Sturtevant- Doug was right- HA HA! Tag, you're it! Just kidding, you guys will do fine next year- never misunderstand the yearbook- she is a tricky beast. Best of Luck- I leave the editor's post in your able hands.

Mr. Tate and Mr. Coverstone- thank you for being understanding about my deadlines. I know my priorities seemed odd sometimes, but you guys went easy on me and let me work on the annual- thank you.

My family- although that phrase grew at different times this year, I thank my family for their advice on the book and their understanding. Sorry about the weird hours and the stress- I love you.

Good-bye from the Class of '97
